The Lewis Edward Wilson Memorial Scholarship

In honor of the life of Lewis Edward Wilson (aka) “LewDawg,” the Wilson Family has established a memorial scholarship in his name for seniors at South Caldwell High School.

Lewis Edward Wilson, “LewDawg” was 18 years old and a senior at South Caldwell High School when he attended welding classes at CCC&TI. It was then that he knew he wanted to become a professional welder after he received his welding technology certification.

Lewis was a member of Covenant Baptist Church where he accepted Christ at an early age. He enjoyed hunting, fishing, golfing, and many other hobbies, but his music, family and friends were his life.

Lewis always had a smile that was contagious and was always there to help anyone at any time. He could make you smile, laugh, and cheer you up just by looking at you. Those who knew him realized his great sense of humor. Lewis was loved by so many, but he loved others even more.

Lewis was a young man that always wanted to make everyone’s life better each day. His passion for music and singing was important throughout his life. If you were his friend, his love for you was always in his heart. Lewis lived by his family motto, “Jesus first, others second and yourself third. That was his joy in life.”

The Lewis Edward Wilson Memorial Scholarship

Who is Eligible?
